Corporal Promoted For Recruiting Work

Corporal W. W. Conway of the ma-rine corps, doing duty in Momphis, re-cured 35 applicants for emistment dur-ing the menth of April. Having led all other recomiters importa Conwa-has been promoted to the rank of ser-geant, also receiving a letter of com-mendation fro mithe officer in charge. mentation fro mine efficier in charge.
Ten of these applicants were accepted and transferred for duty.
The whole district of Mempios secured 70 applicants last month of which 40 were accepted.

The date for the final report in the Baptist $10,000,000 campaign has been extended to July J. giving two months more than was planned originally. This was done on account of the large number of rural churches and the difficulty in getting reports where services are not held every Sunday and one paster has more than one church. The prospects seem bright for Tennessee and the $50,000 allotted to this state will be raised.

SHIPMENT EN ROUTE HERE

A telegraphic dispatch from St. Louis Saturday announced the departure of six barges carrying approximately 5,000 tons of merchandise for Memphis and New Orleans. According to river officials there, this is the largest river shipment of freight since the revival of barge traffic on the Mississippi in 1918.

The railroad strike, it is surmlaed, is the cause of increased activity re-

J. V. Atkinson, of the Mississippi-Warrior barge line, stated Saturday that one of the barges clearing from St. Louis was consigned to his concern, but on account of the nonreceipt of bills and invoices, was unable to give any information as to what the shipment contained.

Mrs. Harriet Luella McCollum

Lecturer on Practical Psychology upy the pulpit of the UNITARIAN Church at its services in

The Majestic, Sunday, May 2, at 11 a.m.

Mr. Clark has invited this remarkable woman to speak at his church service in the Majestic Sunday morning in the hope that some who have not yet heard her may take this opportunity of doing so on her present visit to Memphis. His opinion as to the value of her work may be judged from the following. After Mrs. McCollum's lecture to her class at the thoolowyn institute on Monday night he wanted her to give as much of that the close of the first half of the lecture on Tuesday, he wanted that given. But at the close of the second half on Tuesday hight he concluded to ask her to speak on any subject she might choose. The musical part of the service begins promptly at 11. The opening services will be shortened as much as possible so as to give Mrs. McCollum all the time she can spare.
